

Death of a Salesman – Dreams

- “Someday I’ll have my own business, and I’ll never have to leave home any more.” (20)

Willy’s dream: his own business

- “We form two basketball teams, see? Two water-polo teams. We play each other. It’s million dollars’ worth of publicity. Two brothers, see? The Loman Brothers. Displays in the Royal Palms – all the hotels. And banners over the ring and the basketball court: “Loman Brothers.” Baby, we could sell sporting goods!

[...]

It’d be the family again. There’d be the old honor, and comradeship, and if you wanted to go off for a swim or somethin’ – well, you’d do it!”

Happy’s (and Biff’s) dream: the Loman Line